HONOLULU, MAY 24, 1887. The past week was an exceptionally poor one in the way of business, owing to the continuous down pour of rain. The retail trade was almost at zero. The steamers, arriving Saturday and Son-day, report rain as having fallen on the weather side of Hawaii, while the Kan dis-trict is complaining of dry weather. They also report better weather for landing and receiving freight.

There are only three vessels from the Coast, reported during the week, one from Hong Kong and one from Newcastle, N. S. W. One departure for San Francisco-the W. S. Bowne-is reported.

Mr. Cruzan's Lecture.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large number assembled to listen to the Rev. gentleman's lecture at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, on Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The subject chosen for the occasion was the "Opening of the Missiesieri".

occasion was the "Opening of the Mississippi."

Mrs. J. M. Whitney, President of the W. C. T. U., presided. Vocal and instrumental music, by Mrs. J. E. Hanford and J. W. Yarndley, preceded the lecture. In a few appropriate remarks, Mrs. Whitney introduced the Rev. gentleman to the audience.

After the applause which greeted Mr. Cruzan on rising had subsided, he proceeded with the subject for the evening, "The Opening of the Mississippi." The Rev. gentleman, it is well known, was engaged actively in the service of his country, and participated in all the events of which he participated in all the events of which he touched upon, thereby differing from many other lecturers who only gained a knowledge of the soul-stirring battles from history, while he spoke from actual knowledge. The lecture was quite lengthy and full of interest, and was listened to with pleasure by the audience. The lecturer dwelt particu-larly on the scenes enacted at the memorable battle of Shiloh, where, after a great deal of hard fighting, the Union forces were vic-torious. Many scenes and incidents connected with the opening of the Mississippi were also depicted in truly graphic style, showing the hardships and dangers encountered by the "boys in blue," as well as the humorous side of the campaign. It is impossible in a short notice of this interesting lecture to give the reader a synopsis of the many interesting points touched upon during the evening. It is sufficient to say that when the Rev, gentleman concluded his re-marks, the Mississippi was open, and almost free from the influence of the rebel forces, from the "Crescent City" to Cairo—an event which was hailed in the North by all as "the beginning of the end" of this stupendons rebellion. The Rev, gentleman, at the con-clusion of his lecture, took his seat amid a clusion of his lecture, took his seat amid a perfect oration of applause, and the audi-ence retired, feeling that they had listened to one of the most interesting lectures of the

Gazette's Hilo Letter-

EDITOR GAZETTE. - After two years of entire neglect, our roads are at last receiving some little attention from the road supervisor. Beyond a cursory glance when riding along, once in a great while, the inspector has done nothing to earn the fat salary he draws; how ever, now a flimsy attempt is being put forth. The only real substantial piece of work being done is the building of a new bridge, on the other side of Wainaku, across the stream to replace the culvert washed away several months ago. The road across this stream has been almost impassable, and is about the only relic of the roads in their primitive state before any attempt was made at road-making. The present contemplated repairs extend quite a distance into the country, but the work, in most places, is of such a nature that work, in most places, is of such a nature that it can only be called an idle expenditure of money. The road inspector knows very well that mud will not make a road in Hilo: that the more is thrown on the centre of the road, in wet weather, the deeper animals will sink; and yet, in spite of such knowledge, he will go ahead making what are called repairs and wantonly squandering money. Whys don't be confine himself to narrow limits and build he confine himself to harrow limits and build a piece of permanent macadam road, one which, with but little attention, he or some plantation will keep in repair? The piece of road as far as Wainaku, which he built two years ago, was a good job, at the time, and it has been kept in repair by the plantation through which it passes. Were he to follow this work further out through the district as far as possible, considering the allowance made him, he no doubt would have the aid of all the plantations along the way. If the managers see that some effort is being put forth to make a permanent road, they have all expressed their willingness to render all the help possible; but they will not build roads, repair and pay taxes besides. THE REASON WHY.

The approaching elections can be seen through this sop thrown to this district in the shape of this paltry repair to roads. This is the only improvement, if such it can be called, that the district has received from all the promises before the last election; and if they build their hopes on this alone, their chances are very slim. They little know the animus that was set working by the appointment of the brilliant assessor of last year. But their acts, everywhere, are consistent with their policy of personal aggrandisement, which is their present governmental policy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PARTY. Mr. Preslau struck camp on Saturday last, as the weather had been so bad that he was unable to take observations. On that very evening the sky was clear and fine for mak-ing observations, the first time in several eks, and it has continued so ever since. Mr. Preslau left for the volcano on Monday.

THE BOOM. With the assistance of a railway the town is beginning to be sought after by men of different trades and professions. Buildings of very flimsy material are being rushed up, and as quickly as finished, occupied. There are but few vacant dwelling houses in the town, and many are wanted; with the boom comes a surfeit of places of amnsement—billiard halls, shooting galleries, skating rinks, merry-go-rounds, rifle and boat clubs in fact, amusement seems the main thing desired, if the number of these sports are well patronized, is any criterion. Holy Hilo will soon become desecrated by the vulgar throng, and the village that was once so quiet and saint-like will soon lose its peaceful character, push itself into the world grasping modern ideas and improvements as it reaches for its share of the trade of the islands.

A BIG CARGO. The bark Julia Ford sailed on the 14th inst. with Dr. Thompson and son and Mrs. J. H. Kimball as passengers, and a full cargo of sugar, 682 tons, valued at $70,000. This is the largest and most valuable cargo that

COURT NEWS. The Court wound up its duties on Saturday last, having labored through an unusually long calendar of cases. Contrary to established belief and against all former precedent, the weather cleared up last Thursday to show them how fine it can be here. The Judges and members of the bar go away with the happy thought that the much maligned Hilo does have most delightful weather sometimes, and that it is their mis-fortune, not their fault, that the term of Court has been set at such a time as to give them a very depressed idea of the weather. The lawyers who were obliged to remain over have been enjoying themselves viewing the wonderful scenery, within easy approach For Port Townsend, per Hope. May 14-Mrs D

Fort-St. and Boto. J. ion Churches.

On Tuesday evening last a meeting was held at which there was a good attendance, at the Fort-Street Church, to hear and conat the Fort-Street Church, to hear and consider the report of the joint committee, looking to a Union of these two religious bodies. Mr. P. C. Jones occupied the Chair and Mr. W. W. Hall acted as Secretary. The report in printed form, preceded by a statement of previous proceedings was presented. The gentlemen comprising the joint committee were Messrs. W. C. Merritt, J. B. Atherton, A. F. Judd, W. W. Hall and W. O. Smith, of Fort Street Church and Messrs. S. F. Bishop. Fort-Street Church, and Messrs, S. E. Bishop, J. O. Carter, H. A. Parmelee, E. C. Damon and A. L. Smith, of the Bethel Union Church. The following is the basis of a Union on which the committee have agreed:

1st. That each church appoint five persons, who shall together petition the King and Privy Council for a new charter of incorporation, under which there shall be a new church organized. Each church thereby agreeing to disincorporate and to surrender their separate organization and to transfer all property of which they are possessed to the new corporation.

2nd. That each church grant letters of dismissal to their members, recommending them to present these for the organization of a new church to be called the "Congregational Church of Honolula," to be organized under the charter above provided for.
3rd. That to this new church be committed the drafting of their own creed, confessions of faith, and the details of organization.

4th. That this Committee deem it advisable and recommend that a new church building, adequate to the needs of the organiza-tion, be erected upon some suitable site to be selected by the "Congregational Church of Homologia?"

Honolulu. 5th. That the committee recommend that the pews of the new house of worship be made free, and that the money for church expenses be raised by annual pledges, payment in installments in advance.

6th. That in view of the fact that the two churches will soon be without pastors, it seems very desirable that immediate action be taken for the consummation of the union, and we hereby recommend that an early date be fixed upon for the same.

7th. That in presenting this report the work of this committee having been completed, we recommend that it be discharged, and that an executive committee consisting of four persons, two from each church, be appointed, whose duty shall be to prepare the papers and take the necessary steps to carry out these recommendations.

The Kaimiloa Boys-

On Tuesday morning last, when nearly everybody had reluctantly come to the conclusion that they were about to see the last of the "pride of the nation"—the wonderful Kaimiloa and her gallant Captain—the news was sprung upon them, like a clap of thunder from a clear sky, that a serious and disgraceful row had occurred on board the noble ship during the night, and that all discipling had suddenly wilted down to zero. cipline had suddenly wilted down to zero. Of course there were all sorts of yarns affoat as to what was the matter, but the real naked truth was that the boys were having a good time, with plenty of "sand-paper gin" and other etceteras to keep their spirits up.

In seems that between 9 and 10 o'clock in the evening Acting Sub-Lieut. Kaluabine, who had become somewhat oblivious, and forgot that he was an officer in the King's navy, had gone down forward with the boys, where they had the best "stuff," and was having a glorious time. This little deflec-tion from the "Rules" was noticed by a middy, and the gay and festive Acting Sub-Lieutenant was reprimanded for lowering himself so much as to be seen drinking with common sailors in the forecastle, and ordered to go to his room. Kaluahine told the officers to go to Sheol, buckled on his sword, called to the marines to "fall in," which they did, and proceeded to make it warm for those who had interfered with him and his "pals." Lieut. Macdonald then appeared and disarmed the valiant Kaluahine, subsequently ordered him under arrest. subsequently ordered him under arrest.

Shortly after he was released by the Sergeant of Marines, who was also "bilin' drunk."

The marines were again ordered to "fall in" by Kalushine, and did so. They immediately proceeded to put things to rights about the ship, and marched to the cabin, where four of the officers were enjoying a little "lnnch," and ordered the lights put out. Lieut. Macdonald ordered him out of the room, and while in the act of climbing up the companionway Kaluabine fell down into the hold.

One of the Quartermasters then called a boat's crew and pulled for shore, followed in another boat by Lieut. Macdonald and Chief Engineer Thiron, who on landing proceeded to Paymaster Webb's, informing him that they had got enough of the navy and Capt. Jackson, and did not want to go to sea in that ship with such a crew. On their return to the landing they met Capt. Jackson, hav-ing been summoned by telephone, who promptly ordered their arrest, sending Mac-donald on board and Thiron to the station house the latter having a pistol in his pocket. The balance of the officers, it is pocket. The balance of the officers, it is said, were a little too much "under the weather" to go anywhere, and quietly lay down on the deck and went to sleep.

In the forenoon Macdonald, Thiron and Kaluahine were "officially" notified by the Secretary of War and the Navy, that by command of the King they were dismissed, and that their services were no longer required as officers in H. H. M.'s navy, their commissions being caucelled.

Lieut. Sam Maikai takes Macdonald's place as First Sub-Lieutenant, and C. H. Kaulukau, of the King's Guard, has been appointed Acting Sub-Lieutenant, vice Kaluahine dismissed. First Assistant Engineer Lind assumes the post of Chief, vice Thiron.

The Kaimiloa sailed on Wednesday morning about 7 o'clock, with three of her prin cipal Lieutenants recruited from the army. This is, perhaps, the first time in history where an average army officer who has seen no active service, has been promoted to a position of Lieutenant in the navy, and whose only seagoing knowledge consists in being able to "splice the mainbrace." Under these circumstances it will be fortunate (?) if the Honolulu public ever lays eyes on this unique specimen of naval architecture and her gallant Captain again.

2500 will be paid for any case that American Co.'s Hop Bitters will not cure or help. Doubt not. See advertisement.

CHAUNCY-HALL SCHOOL

259 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

This private school offers unusual advantages to those preparing for the Massachu-setts Institute of Technology, for business, or college.

Minute care is given to the health and tothe individual needs of each pupil.

Special students, many of whom are young ladies, may be found in all the regular classes.

The school building was erected solely for its present use, and is in the most ele-gant part of Boston, very near the Institute of Technology, the Natural History Mus-eum, the Art Museum, and the handsomestr churches, hotels, and private houses.

The sixtleth year will open Sept. 14, 1887.

Islands have been in the school during the past year.
